

OCEANSWATCH

Yachties - with your help we can make a positive difference to the people and the environment where you cruise

OceansWatch

- Undertakes humanitarian and marine conservation projects
- Offers resources such as – equipment, marine biologists, project management, support yachts and volunteers
- Works in partnership with NGOs offering humanitarian aid to coastal communities
- Offers training and education to its members

As a member of the yachting community you can witness and report environmental and humanitarian concerns that may otherwise go unnoticed and can join projects such as:

- Monitoring coral reef health
- Cleaning up coastal environments
- Building partnerships with island communities to encourage sustainable livelihoods

Join OceansWatch through our website www.oceanswatch.org